

Absurd Attendant 'Air-rested'

BBC Special News Report by Johnley Videna
Pictures courtesy of www.dailymail.co.uk

Saturday, 10th March 2012

Dallas-Fort Worth Airport; yesterday. An unknown flight attendant for American Airlines caused panic all around the passengers as her violent behaviour escalated. Passengers were panicking after the attendant stated, "don't blame me if this plane crashes..." Furthermore, AA customers declared that the bipolar woman was dictating about the past 9/11 crash and how it will re-occur.

8:25am. Most citizens of America were awake, however, the coffee that woke up the passengers of the American Airlines was the rioting maniac that supposedly should be making sure that everything goes right. One witness confirmed that the flight attendant was speaking in Spanish occasionally and back to English.

In addition, the unnamed attendant was forced and wrestled to the first row of seats; it took over five people to calm and take the woman down. It looks like the attendants were nicer than they looked, as they ran out of alcohol after handing it out for free!

After leaving the aircraft in a state of calamity, the bizarre woman was sent to prison for obvious reasons. It was actually after she was put into jail that the public knew and the airline company itself that she hadn't took her medication. Furthermore, a witness from the aircraft heard that she had an illness called bipolar; a mood- effecting illness. Looks like someone woke up on the wrong side of the bed!

Alcohol, illness, crash, 9/11 or even airlines; whatever the news, BBC will be there, to bring everything to you!

